Senate Republicans Roll Out the Protecting the NH Advantage Agenda to Cut Costs and Protect Families

Concord, NH — New Hampshire Senate Republicans today detailed their Protecting the NH Advantage Agenda, building on a year of completed priorities and outlining a bold plan to keep New Hampshire affordable, safe, and free.

The Protecting the NH Advantage Agenda focuses on lowering costs, protecting families and children, strengthening public safety, and defending New Hampshire’s sovereignty and constitutional freedoms.

“Last year we promised results and we delivered. Republicans crossed every single item off our 2025 agenda,” said Senate President Sharon Carson. “This year, our agenda is even more ambitious, and I am certain that the Senate Republicans will come through for New Hampshire again.”

“Lowering property taxes, increasing affordable housing and lowering energy costs are the key to economic growth for families across this state,” said Majority Leader Regina Birdsell. “Ensuring towns do not increase costs on working people is a crucial part of our 2026 agenda. We will always put taxpayers first by demanding more transparency and accountability of your elected officials before local governments spend more of your money.”

“New Hampshire remains the freest state in the nation, and our agenda protects the Live Free or Die spirit,” said Senator Dan Innis, Chair of the Majority Policy Conference. “We are striving to keep government out of your lives and out of your way as much as possible. Our goal is simple: let Granite Staters live their lives, raise their families, and succeed without government standing in the way.”

By defending the New Hampshire advantage, blocking foreign influence, protecting parents and children, expanding educational opportunity, and lowering everyday costs like housing, property taxes and energy, Republicans are committed to preserving the Live Free or Die values that make this state the best place to live, work, and raise a family.
